

Angie has addressed all of my needs in a copassionate and professional manner, especially concerning my pain management needs. Having had 8 abdominal surgeries and several hospitalizations due to crohn's disease, I have been anxious about the likelihood of another surgery. She has gone above and beyond in her care in provingin me with all the information I have needed. This may sound very vague, but I have been profoundly affected by her ability to be present to me as a patient and also, as a health care professional. One can tell that she loves what she does and views nursing as more than a career, rather , as a way of providing the highest level of compassion with people who are at their most vulnerable moments (such as myself right now!).. Thanks! Cindy Tackett, RN

This is an addendum to my previous statements about Angie my day RN during this stay thus far. She has been very proactive in my care. I will reiterate that there have been experiences with my health throughout the country (and the world..I was in India and Mauritania with the Peace Corps when I fell ill.) I believe Angie's care, compared to my peers and my caregivers has been amazing! There is not particular incident to relate, just that , as I 've said, she's truly a nurse's nurse!!
